Questions To Ask Before Choosing The Cleaning Service Software That Works The Best For You

What Are The Features That Work Best For Your Business?

You know your business the best and you have the last say in which technology you want to integrate with your cleaning business. You cannot just Google "cleaning service software free" and choose the result that comes on top. You need to be clear about which features are a priority in your business and choose the cleaning service software that provides them the best.

You might find some of the software that is similar but some are providing one feature better than the first. One might be good at scheduling and the other at time tracking and payroll management.

What Are The Things You Will Absolutely Not Accept?

Now that you know what the things you need in your software are, you must decide what are the things you cannot accept in your business. There might be some things where you can compromise and there might be some places where you will not budge.

Answer questions like - Do you need to make scheduling easy for your managers? Do you need customized reports for your business? Do you need visual proofs that your employees are working?

What Is The Most Important Thing For You?

There must be something that is absolutely necessary for your cleaning business and what it revolves around. What is one thing that will differentiate your business from the rest of businesses? What do you want to deliver to your customers? Is it the seamless integration of software, an amazing support system, a clean interface, or easy access?

This will set your cleaning business apart from the competition. That one thing will be your selling point through which you can convert your potential customers into clients.

What's Your Budget?

One of the most important things you need to decide before buying any cleaning service software is your budget. You might want a number of features in your software but you need to take care of the budget as well. So plan ahead and make sure you have a format with you so that when you go ahead and look for the software options you have a range of budgets with you

Types Of Cleaning Services You Can Provide

Once you have decided to start your own cleaning service, you have already done your research on what types of cleaning services are already available in the market. But it doesn't hurt to be updated on the recent trends in the market or brush up on your knowledge as the trends keep on changing.

As you start expanding your business you might find yourself in a position where you want to try something new and expand your business in some other sector. For that, you need to have proper knowledge of what areas you can provide your services in. So let's dive into it.

Residential Cleaning:

This type of cleaning service is provided to individual homeowners or tenants and typically includes general cleaning tasks such as dusting, vacuuming, and mopping floors, cleaning bathrooms and kitchens, and organizing living spaces. In such cases, a house cleaning service software will be the best fit for you.

A residential cleaning service can be scheduled on a regular basis, such as weekly or biweekly, or it can be a one-time service, such as a move-in or move-out cleaning. The services provided by a residential cleaning company can vary depending on the needs and preferences of the client.

Commercial Cleaning:

Commercial cleaning services are provided to businesses and organizations, such as offices, retail stores, schools, and hospitals. These services typically include general cleaning tasks, as well as specialized cleaning services such as carpet cleaning, window cleaning, and disinfection services.

These services are usually needed at a large scale and can be profitable if you find the right client. And once you have many clients, you will need cleaning service software to automate the processes and manage the workforce.

Industrial Cleaning:

Industrial cleaning typically includes when you will provide your services for cleaning manufacturing facilities. These types of places usually require a lot of workforces as the area to be covered is large and many appliances will be needed as well.

This type of cleaning service is provided to industrial and manufacturing facilities and typically involves cleaning heavy machinery and equipment, industrial spaces, and hazardous environments. You have a lot of scope to expand in this area as you can cover a lot of industries with proper management. But keep in mind that with success the responsibilities also increase and hence getting software that will manage your operations. With the cleaning service software, you can easily see the availability of your cleaners and schedule them accordingly. This will eliminate the risk of overstaffing or understaffing.

Move-in/Move-out Cleaning:

How Novagems Provides The Best Software Features For Your Cleaning Services Business

Novagems is smart automation software that will not only help you in scheduling your cleaners and workforce but will also help you track and manage them. Novagems helps you bring transparency to your operations and in return increase the efficiency of the employees and customer satisfaction. It has already been providing its services to many satisfied clients with its enticing and easy-to-use features.

Some But Not All Features Of Novagems Are-

Scheduling And Tracking For All

You can make multiple shifts and open shifts on the software which allows you to plan ahead and reduces the chances of error or understaffing. You can easily see the location of your cleaners with GPS tracking and monitor if they have reached the allotted location.

Geofencing

Easily check if your workforce is where they claim to be. If they have started their duty outside of the location they were appointed to the manager will get an instant notification.

Panic Button

If your employees face any trouble while working, they can instantly alert you and the local authorities. This prevents accidents from accelerating and instant action can be taken.

Automatic Payroll And Timesheet

We know how hard it is to make payrolls when you have a lot on your hands. Novagems will help you maintain timesheets where you can keep track of the total hours worked and payrolls can be made accordingly.

Checklists

Checklists are a great way to keep a record of your tasks. This will reduce the chances of error and nothing will be missed. The employees can easily mark the tasks that are done and move on to the next.